

Total income of the population in the Republic of Uzbekistan

(preliminary data for January-March 2020)

According to preliminary data, in January-March 2020, the total amount of the population's total income reached 78.9 trillion soums.

The nominal growth rate of the total income of the population amounted to 122.5%.

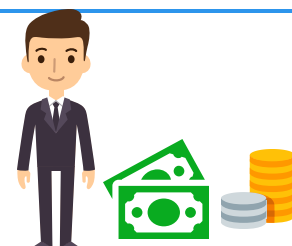

122.5 %

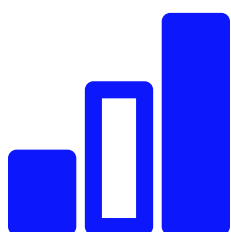

120.1 %

Total income per capita amounted to 2.3 million soums, nominal growth rate - 120.1%.

107.6 %

The growth rate of
total income

In order to exclude the influence of price factors for calculating the real growth rate of household incomes, the Consumer Price Index (CPI) is used - one of the important types of inflation indicator.

Due to changes in consumer prices, the growth rate of the aggregate income of the population, compared to the same period in 2019, amounted to 107.6% in real terms.

In January-March 2020, the real growth rate of total income per capita reached 105.6%.

105.6 %

The growth rate of total income per capita

The average nominal total income per capita of the population above the national average was recorded in Tashkent city - 5824.1 thousand soums, Navoi - 3693.7 thousand soums, Bukhara - 2622.2 thousand soums and Tashkent - 2531.3 thousand soums.

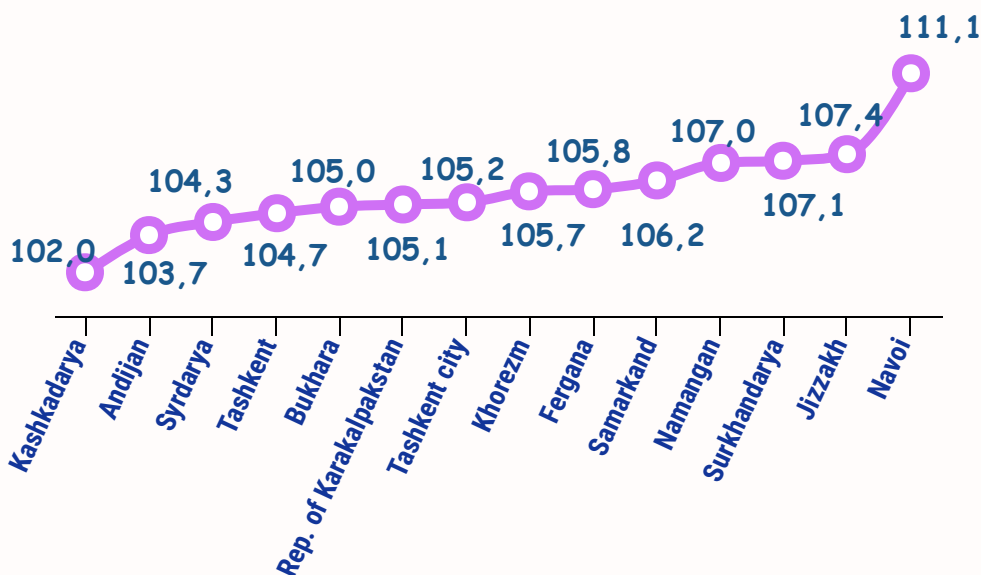

The volume of total income per capita of the population in the regions of the Republic of Uzbekistan for January-March 2020, thousand soums

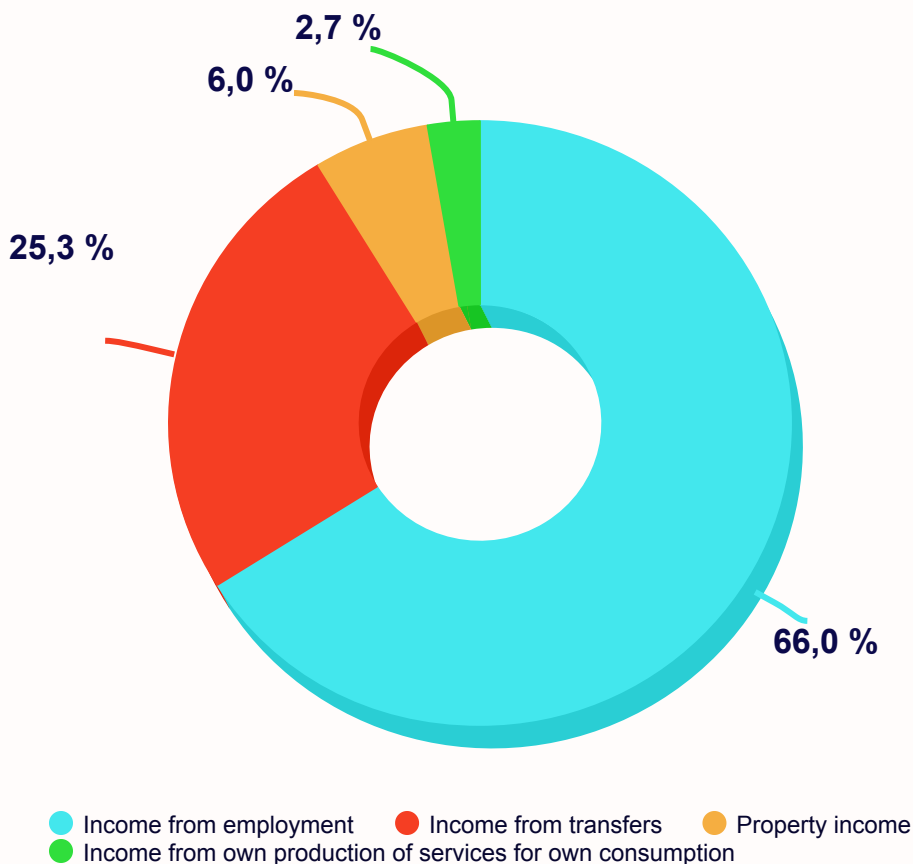

The lowest average nominal total income per capita of the population was recorded in Namangan - 1674.5 thousand soums, as well as in Fergana - 1756.4 thousand soums and Kashkadarya regions - 1758.8 thousand soums.

A very high indicator of real growth in total income per capita was recorded in the Navoi region - 11.1%. Also in Jizzakh - 7.4%, Surkhandarya - 7.1%, Namangan - 7.0%, Samarkand - 6.2%, Fergana - 5.8% and Khorezm - 5.7% regions the average income per capita exceeds the average republican level.

Real growth rates of total income per capita in the regions of the Republic of Uzbekistan in January-March 2020, %

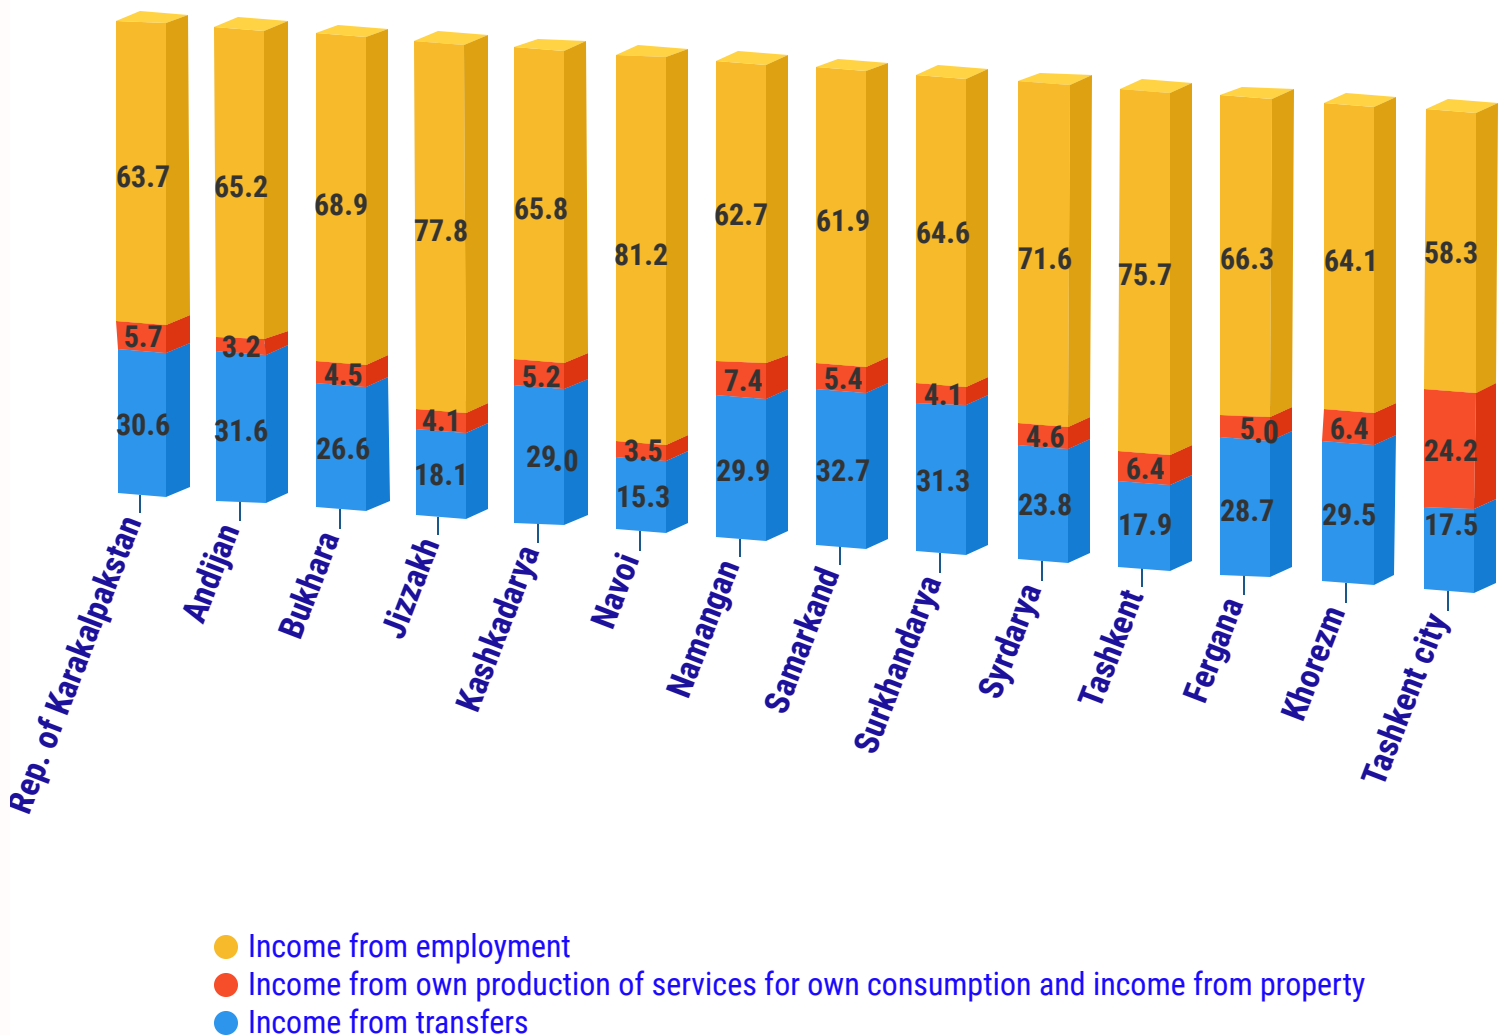

Structure of total income

Significant changes in the total income of the population are mainly facilitated by significant changes in income from labor activity (income of employees and self-employment), which account for 66.0% of total income and 25.3% are income from transfers.

In the total income of the regions, the largest share of income from labor activity (income of employees and income from self-employment) was observed in the Navoi region (81.2%). On the contrary, in the city of Tashkent, Samarkand, Namangan, Khorezm, Surkhandarya, Andijan, Kashkadarya regions and the Republic of Karakalpakstan, it was below the average republican level.

The structure of total income for January-March 2020 by region of the Republic of Uzbekistan (% of the total total income of the population)

Also, in the Samarkand, Andijan, Surkhandarya regions and the Republic of Karakalpakstan, the share of transfer income amounted to more than 30% of the total income of the population.

Income from employment

Income from labor activities (income of employees and income from self-employment) have a significant weight in the structure of total income of the population.

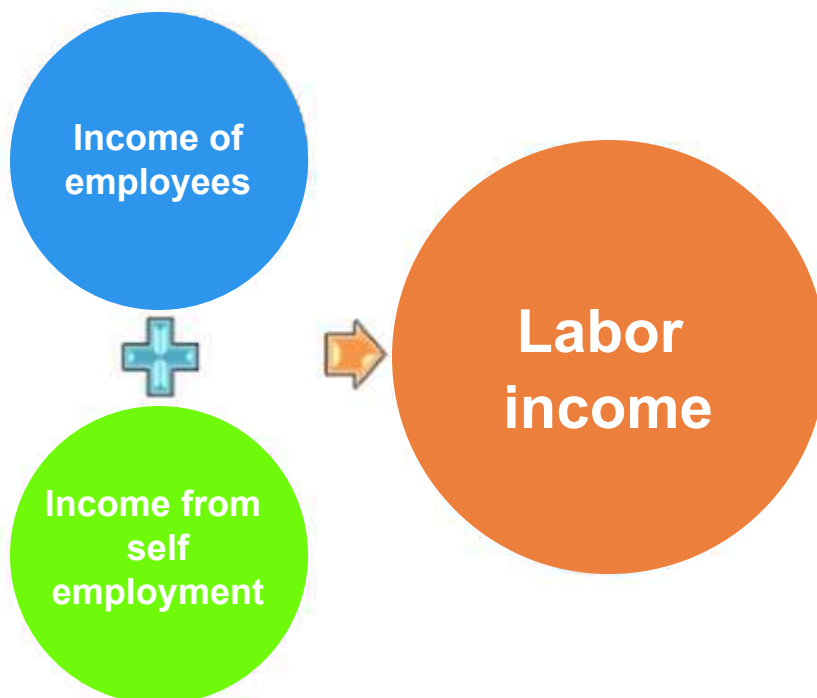

According to preliminary data for January-March 2020, the share of labor income in the structure of total income of the population was 66.0%.

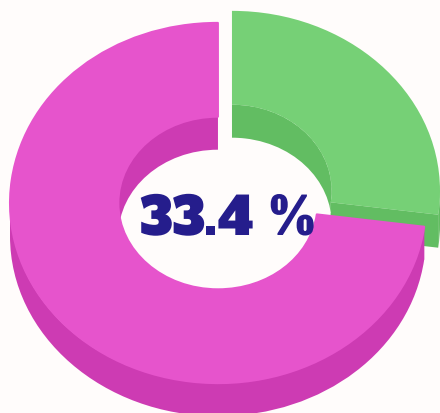

The nominal income growth rate in relation to the corresponding period of 2019 reached 123.1% and contributed to the growth of the nominal total income in the order of 15.2%.

Labor income consists of the income of employees and from the self-employed population.

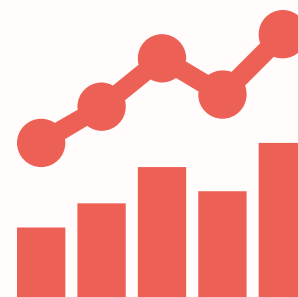

Income of employees

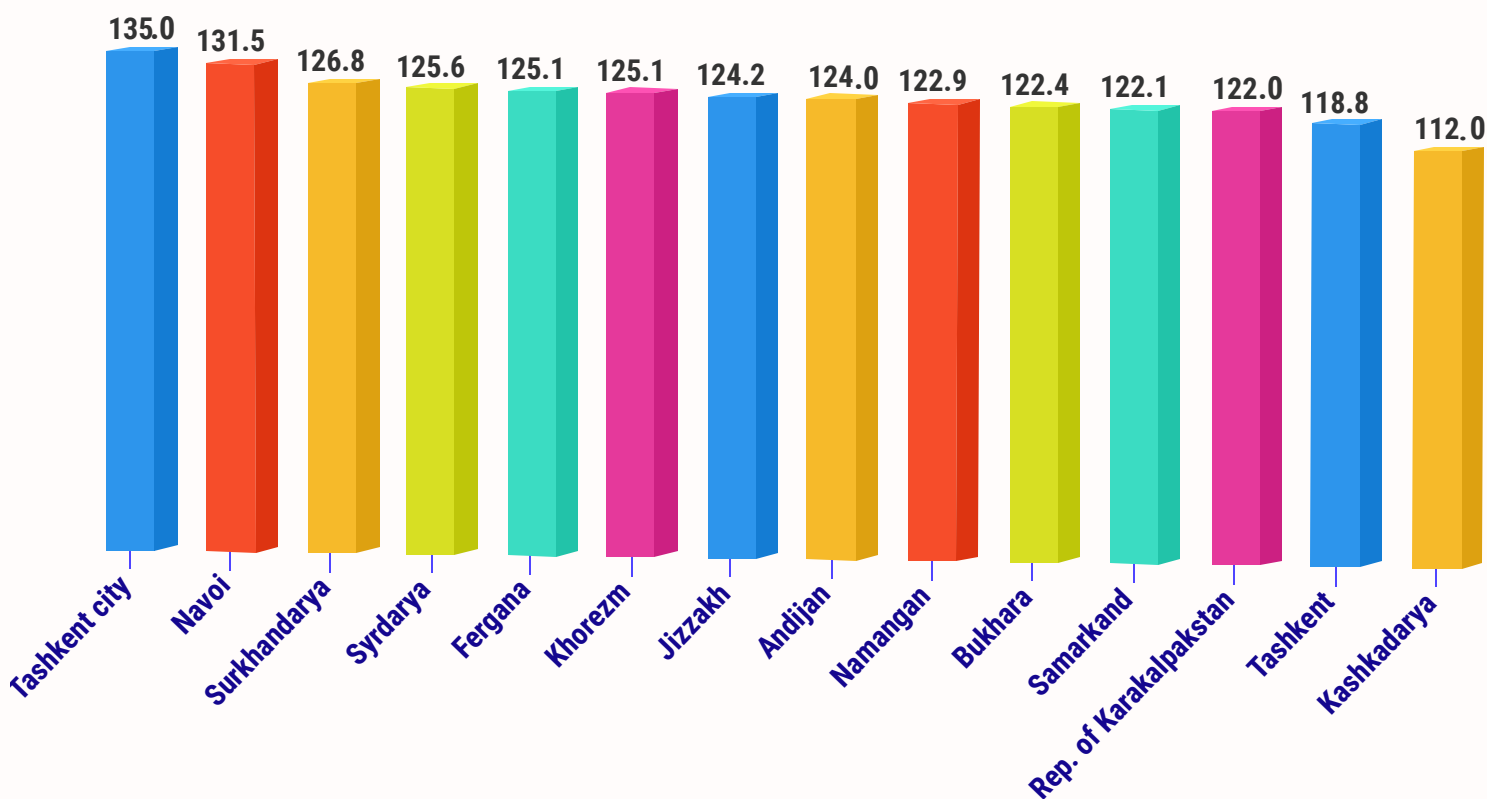

In January-March 2020, the share of total income of employees among the population was 33.4%. The growth rate of their income in the past period reached 125.6%, which ensured an increase in the nominal income of the population by 8.3%.

125.6 %

The growth rate of income of employees by region in January-March 2020 (% of the corresponding period of 2019)

The highest nominal growth rates of employees were recorded in Tashkent city (135.0%), Navoi (131.5%) and Surkhandarya (126.8%) regions.

Income from self-employment

32.6 %

Share in the structure of total population income

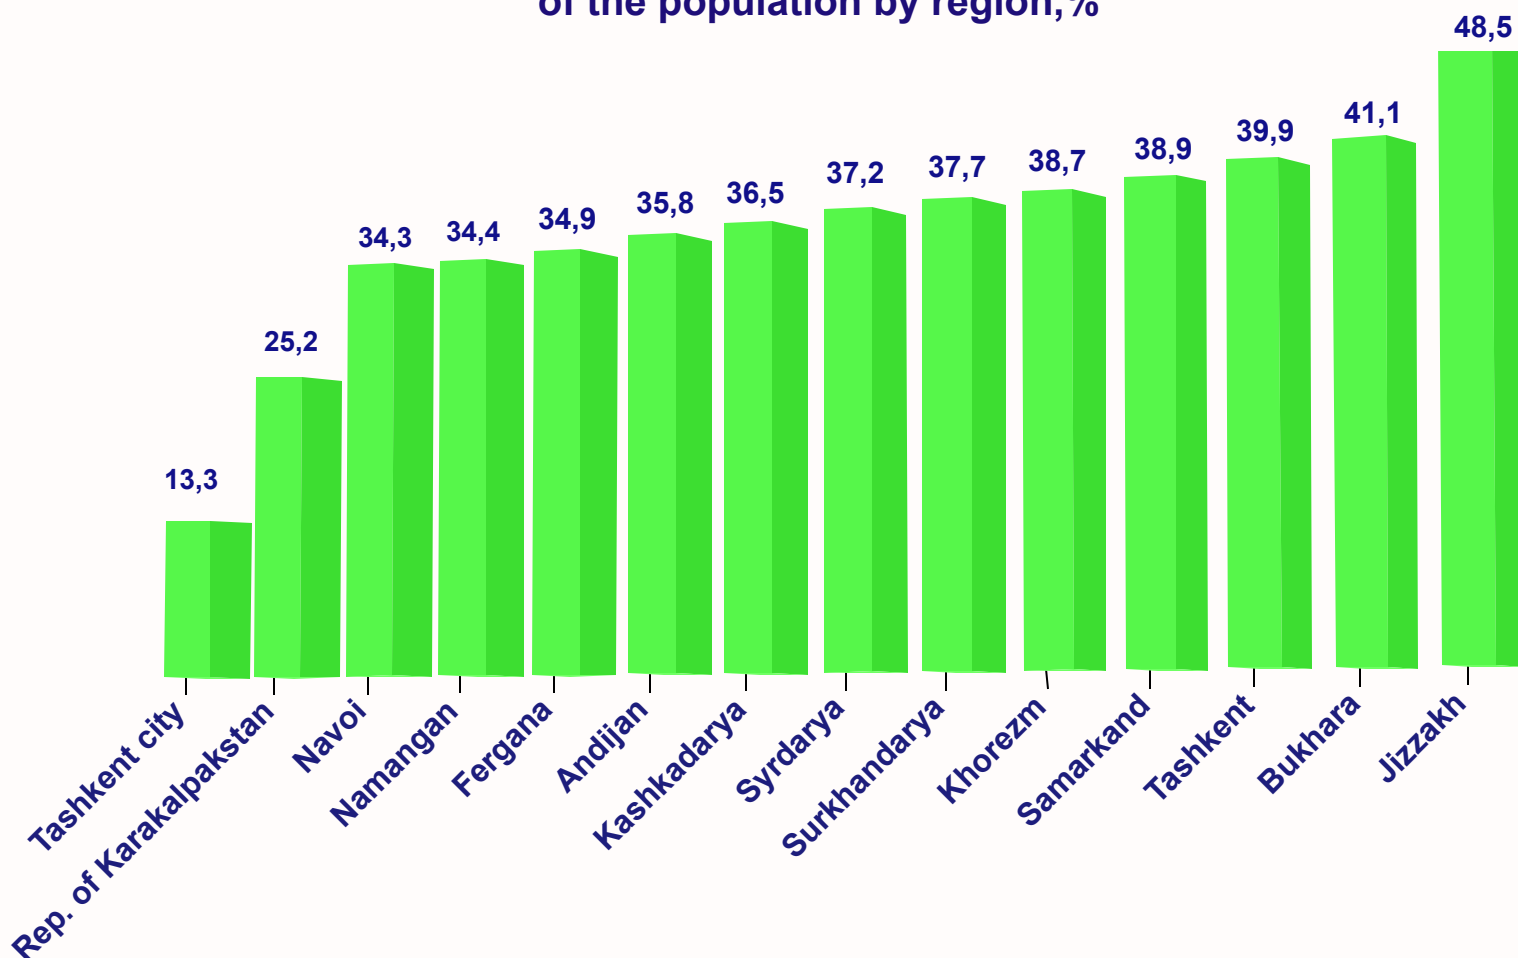

120.7 %

Nominal growth rates compared to January-March 2019

The share of income from self-employment in the total income of the population by region,%

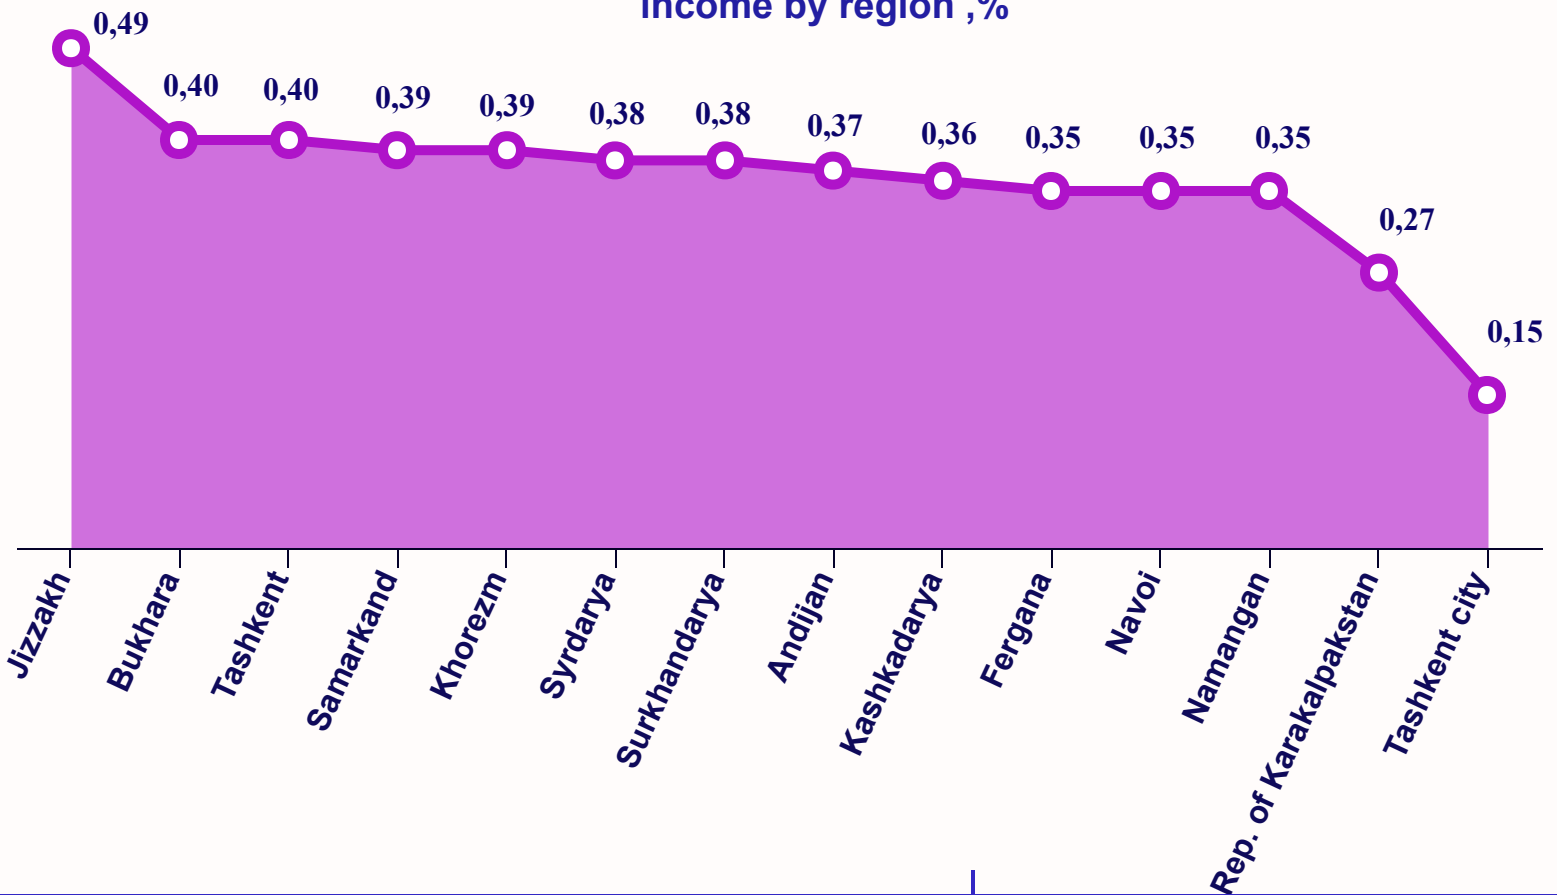

The share of self-employment income in total income by region varies from 13.3% (in Tashkent city) to 48.5% (in Jizzakh region).

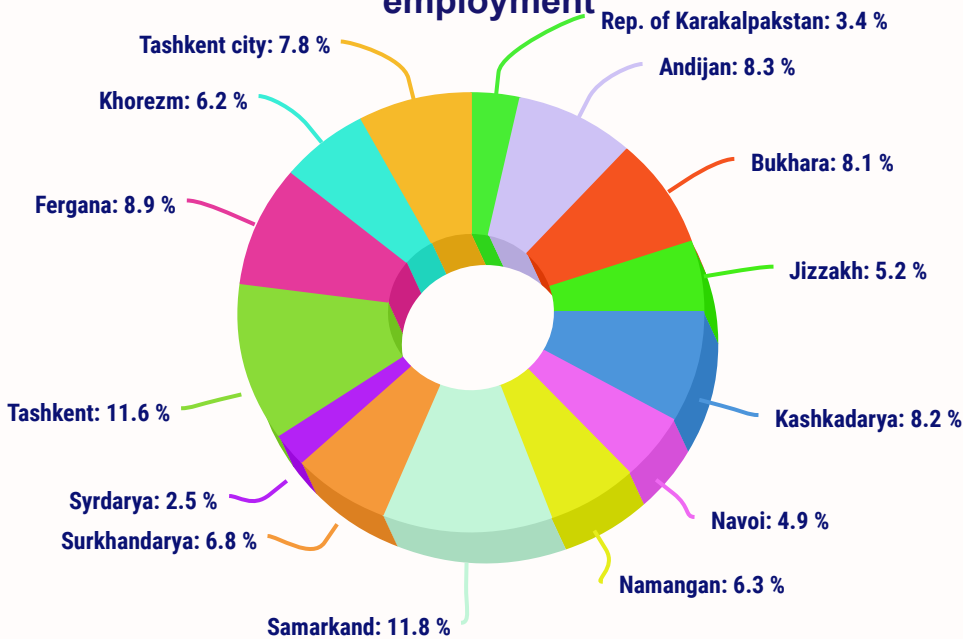

Income from self-employment

With an increase in income from self-employment by 1%, the total amount of total income increases by 0.33%.

The impact of self-employment income growth by 1% to the total population income by region, %

Share of regions in total income from self-employment

The largest share of income from self-employment was recorded in Samarkand (11.8%), Tashkent (11.6%) and Ferghana (8.9%) regions. The regions with the lowest share are the Syrdarya region (2.5%), the Republic of Karakalpakstan (3.4%) and Navoi (4.9%) region.

Property income

Total property
income

4.8 trillion
soums

Nominal growth rates compared to the corresponding period of 2019

137.9 %

Share in the total population income

6.0 %

Total property income

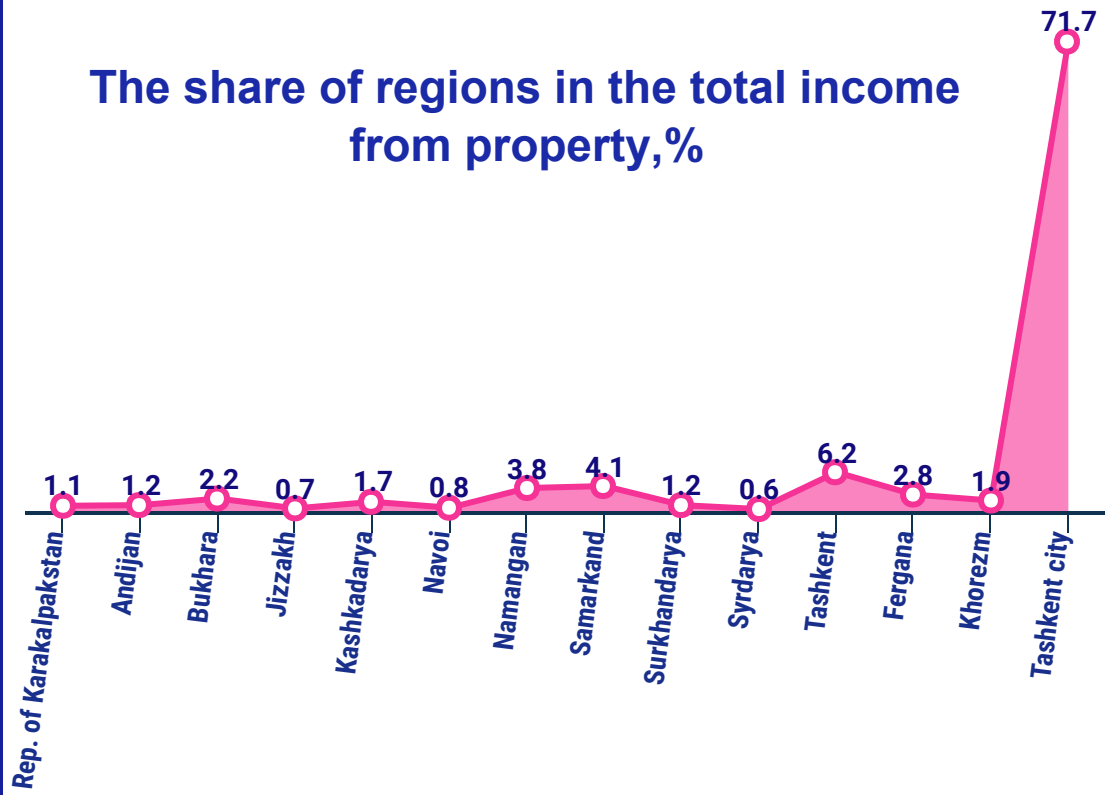

- Interest
- Dividends
- Other property income

The effect of property income on the change in the total population income is insignificant. In the past period, these incomes contributed to the growth of total income in the order of 2.0%.

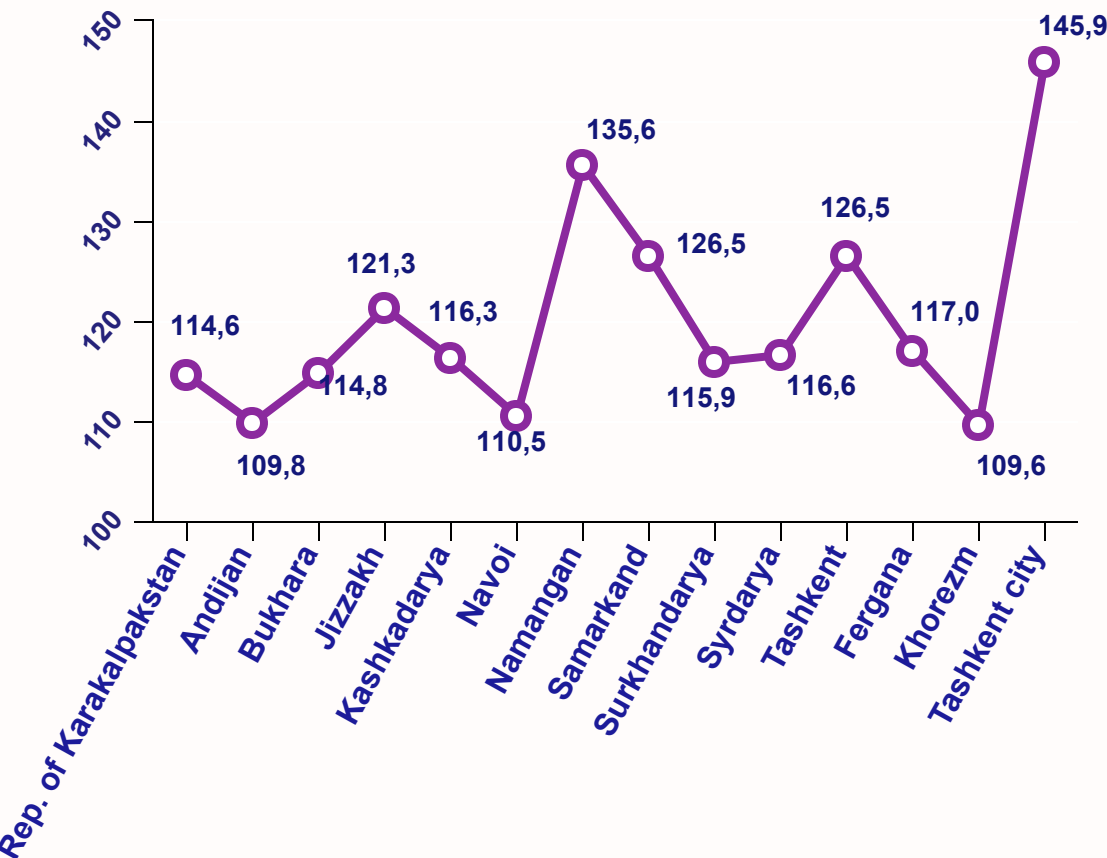

Two-thirds of the volume of property income received in January-March 2020 fell to the share of Tashkent city - 71.7%. The next regions with significant weight are Tashkent (6.2%), Samarkand (4.1%) and Namangan (3.8%) regions.

The share of regions in the total income from property, %

The growth rate of property income compared to the same period last year, %

The nominal growth rate of property income, according to preliminary data for January-March 2020 to the corresponding period of the previous year, amounted to 137.9%. The highest growth rates were observed in the Namangan region - 145.9%.

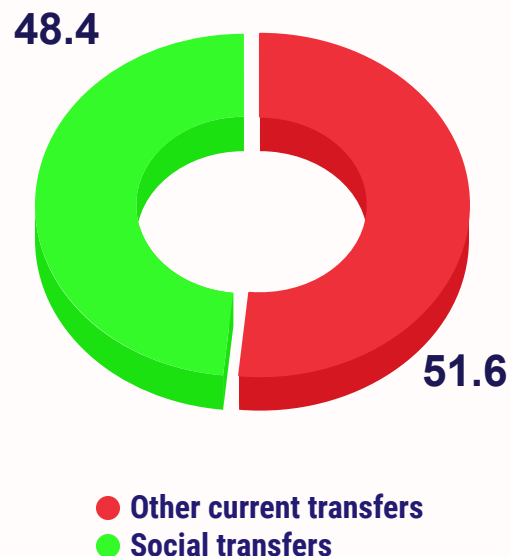

Income from transfers

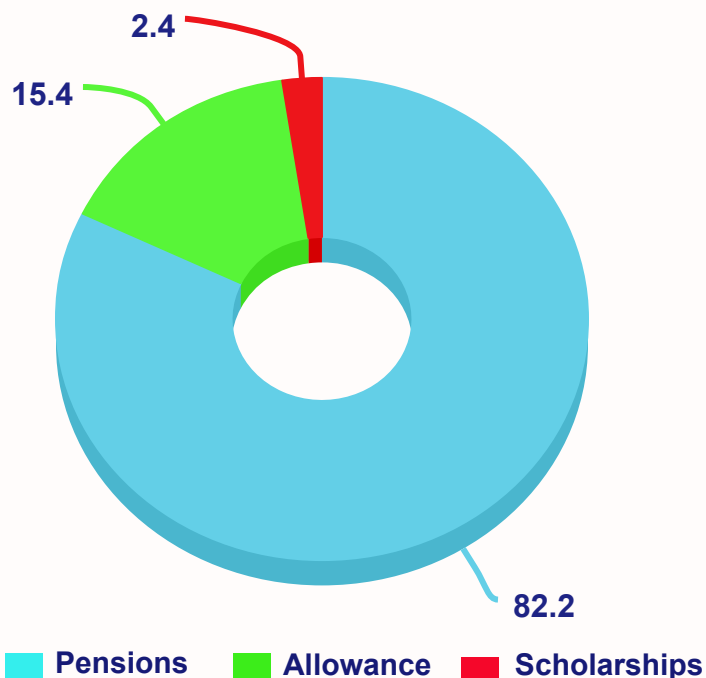

The share of transfers in the total income of the population decreased by 1.0 percentage points and amounted to 25.3%.

Social transfers, in turn, include pensions, allowances and scholarships. According to preliminary data for January-March 2020, 48.4% of income from transfers came from social transfers, 51.6% - from other current transfers. Changes in pensions, allowances and scholarships over the past period contributed to an increase in the total income of the population by 2.6 %.

The structure of income from transfers, %

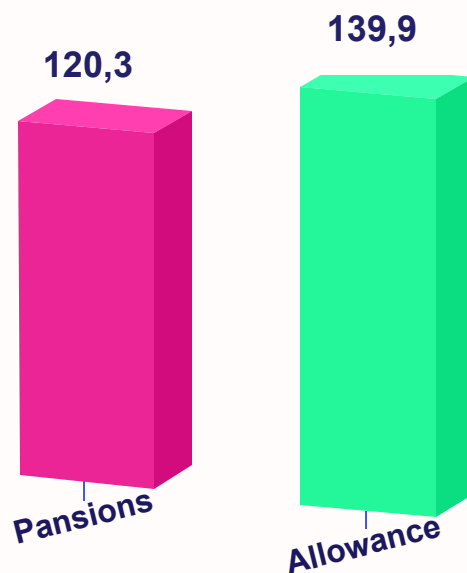

The structure of social transfers, %

The share of pensions in the total volume of social transfers amounted to 82.2%, allowances - 15.4%, scholarships - 2.4%.

The growth rate of social transfers by type, %

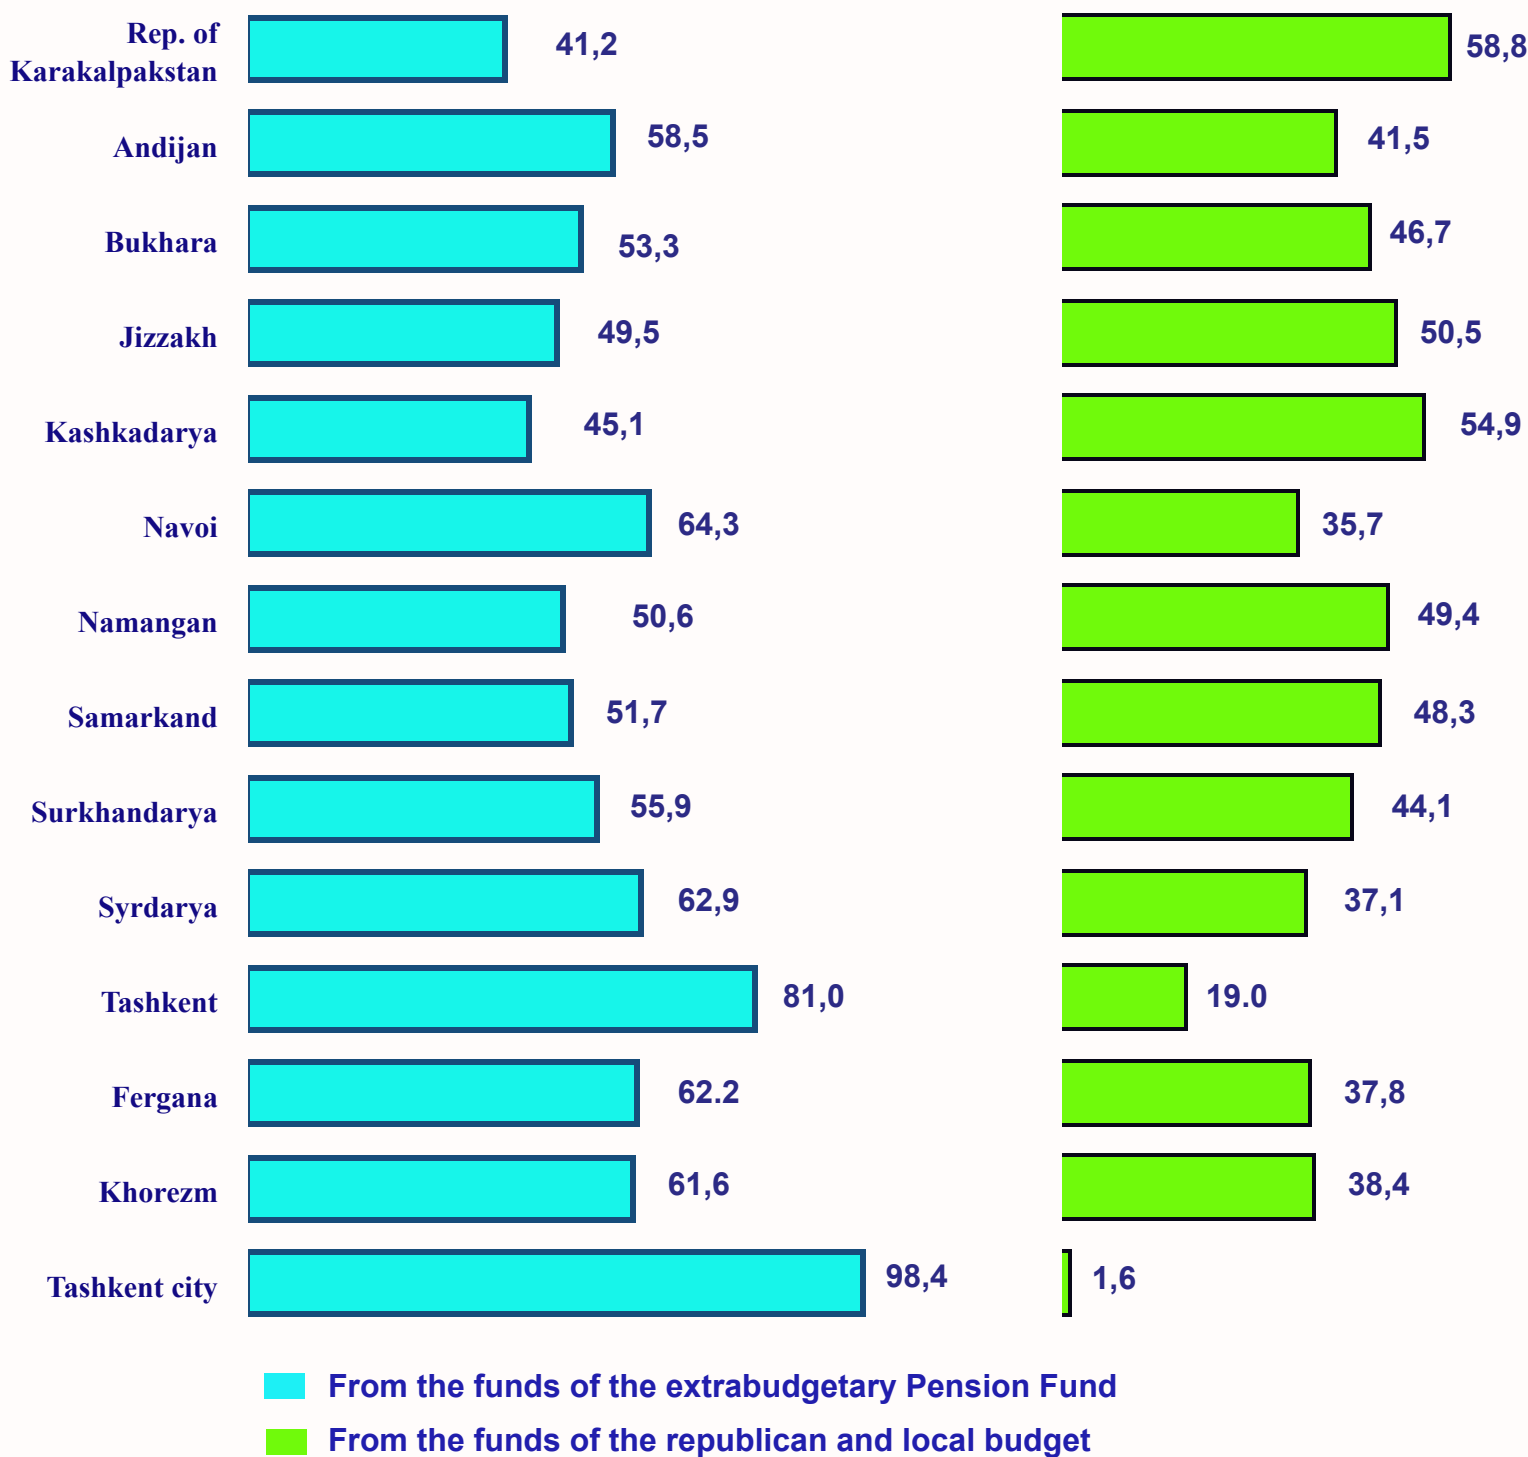

Compared with the corresponding period of 2019, the growth rate of pensions amounted to 120.3%, allowances - 139.9%.

In January-March 2020, allowances and material assistance of 1.5 trillion soums were allocated for social support of the population. Of these, 56.2% of insurance benefits were funded by the extrabudgetary Pension Fund, 43.8% were allocated from the republican and local budgets.

Sources of the formation of social benefits by region, %

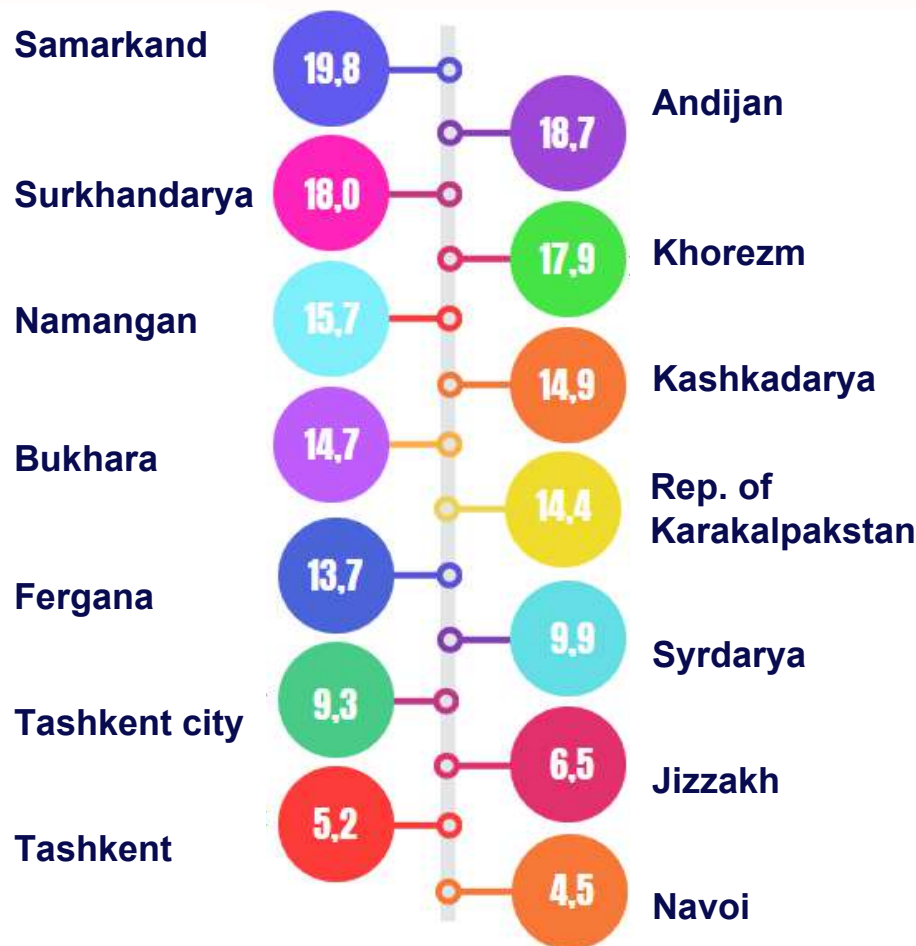

Other current transfers

The nominal growth rate of remittances from abroad, which are part of other current transfers, in January-March 2020 amounted to 115.6%, and their share, compared to the same period last year, in the total income of the population increased by 0.7 p.p. and amounted to 13.1%, the change in income from other current transfers ensured an increase in the nominal value of the total income of the population by 2.2%.

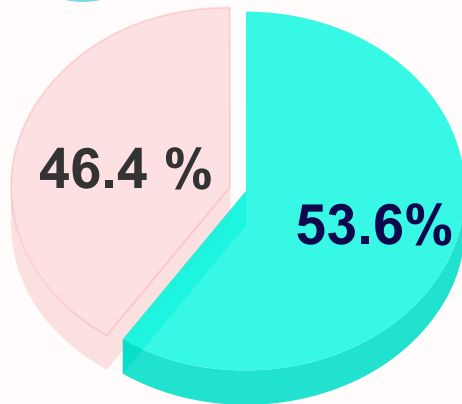

The largest share of remittances in the total income of the population was recorded in the Samarkand region (19.8%). It was also high in Andijan (18.7%), Surkhandarya (18.0%), Khorezm (17.9%), Namangan (15.7%), Kashkadarya (14.9%), Bukhara (14.7%) regions, the Republic of Karakalpakstan (14.4%) and Fergana (13.7%) region.

The share of remittances from abroad of the total income of the population, %

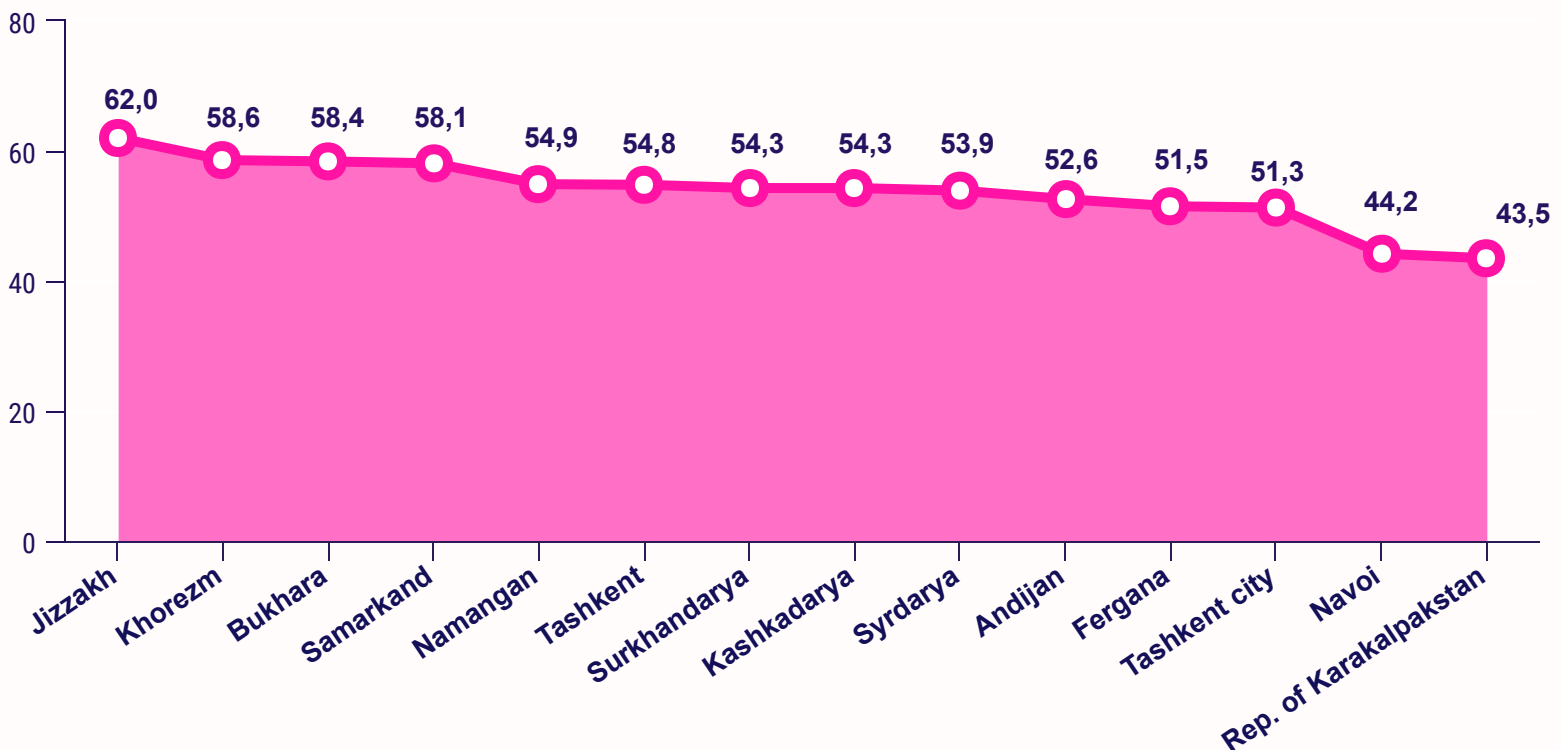

Income from small business in the structure of total income of the population

According to preliminary data for January-March 2020, the share of income received from small businesses amounted to 53.6% of the total population income. So, in the structure of the total income of the regions it differs: the highest share is recorded in the Jizzakh region - 62.0%.

The share of income received from small businesses in the structure of total population income by region, %

The smallest share of income received from small business was recorded in the Republic of Karakalpakstan - 43.5%, as well as in Navoi region - 44.2%.

Department of Living Standards and Social Statistics
Responsible for the issue: J.Yuldashev
Tel.: (71) 230-81-66